

OLD MASTERS

---

Colin Gleadell

Dealers in Mayfair and St James's have been preparing special exhibitions for the international collectors and museum curators who are expected to descend on London for the Old Master sales next week. Johnny Van Haeften's bi-annual exhibition of 17th-century Dutch and Flemish paintings opens next week. Colnaghi has mounted a themed exhibition that takes the artist at work in his studio and the self-portrait as its subject. And Daniel Katz has gathered an array of European sculptures, many priced under £10,000.
